Portable products?

No more plastic market bag...

NOT PRACTICAL

PRACTICAL

In January, 2017, we adopted a kitten, still with 45 days of life. The minute she entered our home, a whole universe became part of our daily lives.

To get her to the vet, we would look for a plastic market bag, a bottle of water, a pot for a little food, and another pot in which we could put the water for her to drink. And in the bag everything was a mess, besides the rush to find the items and be ready to leave.

And that's when we felt in need of something that made these outings to be more practical - for us and for them.

From a NEED came an IDEA and then the SOLUTION. Portable products.

A pet friendly life style

When going out, traveling and working. And a full line of products that follow this lifestyle.
